	Weapon Statistics
TL	The tech level at which the weapon first becomes widespread. You may only buy weapons of your campaign's TL or less, unless you have the High TL trait (B23).
Weapon	The general class of weapon in question; e.g., "shortsword" or "assault rifle." Each entry represents a wide range of individual types. For guns, this entry includes a projectile diarineter, or "caliber," given in millimeters (e.g., orim) or fractions of an inch (e.g., .50), as customary for the weapon. The letters M (Magnum), P (Pistol), R (Revolver), and S (Short) appear after caliber in situations where different guns have the same caliber but fire different ammunition; for instance, 7.62mm ammo is not interchangeable with shorter 7.62mmS ammo.
	For muscle-powered melee and missile weapons, such as swords and bows, damage is ST-based and expressed as a modifier to the wielder's basic thrusting (thr) or swinging (sw) damage, as given on the Damage Table (B16). For example, a spear does "thr+2," so if you have ST 11, which gives a basic thrusting damage of Ta-1, you inflict 14' I damage with a spear. Note that swung weapons act as a lever, and so do more damage. For firearms, grenades, and some powered melee weapons, damage is given as a fixed number of dice plus adds; e.g., a 9mm auto pistol lists "24'2," which means that any user would roll 2d and add 2 to get damage. Armor divisor. Divide the target's DR from armor or other pistol lists "2d+2," which means that any user would roll 2d and add 2 to gët damage. Armor Divisors: A parenthetical number after damage - e.g. (2) - is an armor divisor. Divide the target's DR from armor or other sources by this number before subtracting it from your damage (or adding it to the target's HT roll to resist an affliction). For instance, an attack with a divisor of (2) would halve DR. A fractional divisor increases DR: (0.5) multiplies DR by 2; (0.2) multiplies it by 5; and (0.1) multiplies it by 10. Damage Type: An abbreviation indicating the type of injury or effect the attack causes: aff = affliction, burn = burning, cor = corrosion, cr = crushing, cut = cutting, fat = fatigue, imp = impaling, pr = small piercing, pit = large piercing, pit + huge piercing, spec. = special - see weapon notes, tox = toxic. A victim loses HP equal to the damage that penetrates his DR. Halve this for small piercing attacks; increase it by 50% for cutting and large piercing attacks; and double it for impaling and huge piercing attacks. Subtract fatigue damage from FP instead of HP. Afflictions cause no injury, but impose a particular affliction on a failed HT roll, as specified in the weapon's notes. See Damage and Injury (p. 377) for additional rules. Explosions: An "ex" after crushing or burning damage indicates the attack produces an explosion. This may injure those nearby: divide damage by three times distance in yards from the center of the blast. Some explosions scatter fragments that inflict cutting damage on anyone nearby (see Fragmentation Damage, p. 414). Fragmentation damage appears in brackets; e.g., "3d [2d] cr ex" means an explosions: Some special weapons don't list dice of damage. Instead, they give a HT modifier, e.g., "HT-3." Anyone who is hit must attempt a HT roll at the listed penalty to avoid the effects of the affliction (e.g., unconsciousness). For example, a stung un calls for a HT-3 foll to avoid being stunned for (20 - HT) seconds. Note that DR (modified by any armor

Melee weapons only. This is the distance in yards at which a human-sized or smaller wielder can strike with the weapon. For example, reach "2" means the weapon can only strike a foe two yards away – not a closer or more distant one. "C" indicates you can use the weapon in close combat, see Close Combat (B391). Some weapons have a continuum of reaches; e.g., a spear with reach "1, 2" can strike targets either one or two yards away. An aster-isk (1) next to reach means the weapon is adward enough that it requires a Ready maneuver to change reach (e.g., between 1 and 2). Otherwise, you can strike at foes that are at any distance within the weapon's reach. Reach

Melee weapons only. A number, such as "+2" or "-1," indicates the bonus or penalty to your Parry defense when using that weapon (see Parrying, B376). For most weapons, this is "0," meaning "no modifier." F" means the weapon is a fencing weapon (see B404). U" means the weapon is unbalanced: you cannot use it to parry if you have already used it to attack this turn (or vice versa). No means the weapon cannot parry at all. Parry

Ranged weapons only. Add Accuracy to your skill if you took an Aim maneuver on the turn prior to your attack. If the weapon has a builtin scope, the bonus for this appears as a separate modifier after the weapon's base Acc; e.g., "7+2." Acc

The maximum number of shots an ordinary shoter can fire in a one-second turn. A weapon can normally fire fewer shots (to a mini-mum of 1), if you wish, but some special notes apply: "I means the weapon can only fire on "full auto, like many machine guns. Minimum RoF is 114 the listed RoF, rounded up. "m x n" (e.g., 3x9) means the weapon can fire a number of shots per attack equal to the first number (m), and that each shot releases smaller projectiles (B409). "Jet" means the weapon shoots a continuous stream of fluid or energy, using the jet rules (B106). RoF

The number of shots the weapon can fire before you must reload or recharge it. "T" means the weapon is thrown. To "reload," pick it up or ready a new weapon! The parefithetical number following Shots indicates the number of one second Ready maneuvers needed to reload all of the weapon's shots (e.g., by changing magazines) – or, for a thrown weapon, the time needed to ready another weapon. An "i" next to this means you must rolad shots individually. The time inteed is per shots. Shots

The weight of the weapon, in pounds: "neg." means "negligible." For missile weapons with Shots 2+, this is loaded weight. The weight of one full reload appears after a slash. Weiaht of one full reload appears after a stash. The minimum Strength required to use the weapon properly. If you try to use a weapon that requires more ST than you have, you will be at -1 to weapon skill per point of ST you lack and lose one extra FP at the end of any fight that lasts long enough to fatigue you. "T means the weapon requires two hands. If you have at least 1.5 times the listed ST (round up), you can use a weapon like this in one hand, but it becomes unready after you attack with it. If you have at least twice the listed ST, you can use a weapon like this in one hand, but it becomes unready after you attack with it. If you have at least twice the listed ST, you can use a weapon like this in requires two hands, regardless of ST. "T means the weapon requires two hands and becomes unready after you attack with it, unless you have at least 1.5 times the listed ST. "T means the weapon requires two hands and becomes unready after you attack with it, unless you have at least 1.5 times the listed ST, (round up). To use it in one hand without it becoming unready, you need at least three times the listed ST. "B' indicates a firearm with an attached bipod. When firing from a prone position using the bipod, treat the weapon as if it were braced and reduce its ST requirement to 2/3 of the listed value (round up), e.g., ST 13 becomes ST 9. "M" means the weapon is usually mounted in a vehicle or gun carriage, or on a tripod. Ignore the listed ST and Bulk when firing the weapon firing the weapon mount. Removing the weapon from its mount (or reattaching it) takes at least three one-second Ready maneuvers. ST

A measure of the weapon's size and handiness. Bulk modifies your weapon skill when you take a Move and Attack maneuver (see Move and Attack, B365). It also serves as a penalty to Holdout skill when you attempt to conceal the weapon. Bulk A measure of how easy the weapon is to control when firing rapidly: the higher the value, the less controllable the weapon. Rcl 1 means the weapon is recoilless, or nearly so. When firing at RoP 2-4, every full multiple of Rol by which you make your attack roll means you score one extra hit, to a maximum number of hits equal to total shots fired; see Rapid Fire (B373). (Firearms with RoP 1 still list Rcl, for use with certain rules.) Rcl

This is only noted for firearms and grenades. All melee weapons and muscle-powered ranged weapons intended for combat are LC4. An exception is the force sword, which is LC2. Ignore LC for "weapons" intended as tools, or for hunting or recreation, and for those that are completely improvised (like a wooden stake). See Legality Class (B267). LC
